Your article on "Measuring the Psychological Construct of Control" has been very enlightening and helpful to me in my recent dissertation research. My research is focusing on the need for control and attachment styles of ACOAs, and I am looking for an instrument to use which will provide me with a more comprehensive measure of this construct.

I would certainly appreciate it if you would be willing to share a copy of your Shapiro Control Inventory with me for use in my study.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Denise Beesley, M.Ed.
